for

STORYTELLING CONSULTANCY

You want...

- to write more effectively and more expressively...
- to tell stories that readers and customers fall in love with...
- to write pitches that get accepted and create marketing that inspires action...
- to motivate your audience without preaching to them...
- and to sound exactly like yourself when you write – the real you that deserves to be heard.

I Can Help.

How? Well, like you, I'm interested in results.

Before you employ my services, we'll agree on exactly what we aim to achieve and by when.

We'll decide what success looks like and we'll gear all the work we do together around that goal (or those goals, depending on how ambitious you're feeling).

We'll agree on a work schedule beforehand, which can be as flexible as you like (an hour a fortnight, an hour a day – you get to choose).

Are you ready to hit all your storytelling goals for the year and make stuff happen?

For June 2015 only, book 2 hours of consultancy time with me for £50 ($78) – that's 37% off my standard rate.

* no charge for initial e-mail exchange to decide mentoring goals. Two-hour block of time doesn't have to be used all at once.
